

UWL REPOSITORY

repository.uwl.ac.uk

Radical librarianship: the politics and mechanics of DIY culture, and how librarianship might be able to learn from grassroots organisation

Sanders, Kevin (2016) Radical librarianship: the politics and mechanics of DIY culture, and how librarianship might be able to learn from grassroots organisation. In: Academic and Special Libraries 2016: Smashing stereotypes: Librarians get loud!, 11-12 Feb 2016, Dublin, Republic of Ireland. (Unpublished)

This is the Presentation of the final output.

UWL repository link: <https://repository.uwl.ac.uk/id/eprint/4186/>

Alternative formats: If you require this document in an alternative format, please contact: open.research@uwl.ac.uk

Copyright: Creative Commons: Attribution 4.0

Copyright and moral rights for the publications made accessible in the public portal are retained by the authors and/or other copyright owners and it is a condition of accessing publications that users recognise and abide by the legal requirements associated with these rights.

Take down policy: If you believe that this document breaches copyright, please contact us at open.research@uwl.ac.uk providing details, and we will remove access to the work immediately and investigate your claim.

radical librarianship: the politics and mechanics of DIY culture, and how librarianship might be able to learn from grassroots organisation

Kevin Sanders

@noananddrone

kjsanders@riseup.net

(0x4ebe32cf81537e90)

* E-Resources Librarian at the University of Bath

* Subject Librarian at the University of ~~Bath~~ Huddersfield

* Assistant at Leeds Metropolitan University, University of Sheffield, University of Derby

Education and qualifications

MSc Library & Information Studies, Merit, Aberystwyth University (2013)
BA (Hons) English Studies – First class degree, Sheffield Hallam University (2004)
3 A-levels – English: A; Biology: B; Business Studies: C (2001)
10 GCSEs A-C including English Literature: A; Mathematics: B; Science (double award): A, A (1999)

Employment history

University of Bath, Information Librarian (E-Resources), November 2013 - (present)

- Liaising with publishers, aggregators and content providers;
- Managing electronic accessibility to library holdings through link resolver and EZ Proxy administration;
- Subscribing to and purchasing access to electronic materials for the University;
- Administering the serials, packages and databases renewals cycles;
- Harvesting and maintaining usage statistics for subscribed journals and databases;
- Consultation regarding commercial aspects of scholarly communication;
- Line management of two colleagues in the adjacent print periodicals team;
- Panel member of the JUSP Community User Group
- Member of the University's Ginger Group for Open Access

University of Huddersfield, Subject Librarian, May 2012 - October 2013

- Collection and budget management;
- Pedagogically informed information literacy and skills teaching;
- Reference tuition;
- Academic liaison;
- Supervision of assistant colleagues

University of Huddersfield, Library Assistant, May 2010 - October 2013

- Supporting using education and orient
- Ordering physical resources, including book and AV materials;
- Scheduling recording of AV material for local streaming access

Leeds Metropolitan University, Senior Information Assistant (Oct 2008 – March 2010)

- Administering print periodicals subscriptions and acquisitions;
- User support on the i-point Help Desk (circulation issues)

... but identity and approaches to work etc. are more profoundly developed by my interests ~~and~~ and activities from outside the profession

"liberalism functions as hegemonic ideology ... Within liberalism, differences can always be subsumed into (the) universally appealing ..."

(Seale, 2016)

"The world does not contain any information. It is as it is. Information about it is created in the organism through its interaction with the world. To speak about storage of information outside the human body is a semantic trap. Books or computers~~x~~ are part of the world. They can yield information when looked upon. We move the problem of learning and cognition~~x~~ nicely into the blind spot of our intellectual vision if we confuse vehicles for potential information with information itself. We do the same when we confuse data for potential decisions with decision itself.

(Illich, 1973)

* Radical Librarians Collective

* Formation and context

* Participation

* "There's always an alternative to the alternative"

* Decentralisation as practice

* Practical engagement

* Structure, imperfection, and the lack of utopia

Formation and context

Political context

Social media

Local/regional alignment

Radical Reference,
Progressive Librarians
Guild etc.

Participation, identities,
and subjectivities

Trade Unionists

Punks and DIYers

Hunt saboteurs

Skateboarders

Social centre/co-operative workers

Young

Non-binary

LGBTQI *

Alternative ideas

Marginalised voices

Community: resilience

Proactive

Bradford, 2013

London, 2014

Huddersfield, 2015

Brighton, 2016

RADICAL LIBRARIANS COLLECTIVE

NATIONAL MEETING

BRIGHTON

9TH
JULY 2016

Safer space policy

* Borrowed from OK Cafe's policy

* Read out at every meeting

* Collective responsibility

SAFER SPACES POLICY

Our Safer Spaces policy has been borrowed from our friends at Manchester's OK Cafe. However, it relies on us all reflexively approaching our conduct towards one another as basic tenet of the Radical Librarians Collective's culture is respect. We need to ensure that we respect each other – our backgrounds, identities, ideas and bodies – and respect the space that we have created together, be that online or offline. So:

- Everyone has an equal right to be heard and an equal responsibility to listen (people who are used to talking may feel the benefit of listening more, and vice versa).
- Respect and look after the building as a physical space and a resource for all.
- However strongly you feel about a particular topic, resist abusive discussions.
- Any behaviour – physical or verbal – that demeans, marginalises or dominates others, or perpetuates hierarchies, is not welcome.
- Identify your own privileges – the things that sometimes give you an easier ride than others – and actively challenge them.
- Be aware of the range of different identities (gender, race, class) that people may identify with, and avoid making generalisations, or assumptions about people.
- Be aware that anyone in the space could be a survivor of a particular form of oppression, for example, violence or racism.
- If someone is feeling uncomfortable, do not hesitate to raise this.
- It is everyone's responsibility to challenge prejudice and oppression, and if we ignore it we are complicit in it.

This list is not intended to be exhaustive. It is our responsibility to help create a space where everyone feels safe and included. If anyone would like the list to be amended, we encourage you to contact us help us to make our space safer for the collective good.

We encourage and support groups that may wish to create a temporary safe space, meeting space or workshop space for a particular group.

"There's always an alternative to the alternative"

"The Master's tools will never dismantle the Master's house."

(Lorde, 1984)

Decentralisation as practice

- * Conscious removal of centrality
- * Limiting potential, homogenisation, power, and control
- * Autonomy, openness
- * Hierarchies, begone
- * Regional groups

Regional groups

* Oxford

* London and the South East

* Yorkshire

* Ireland (@RadLibsIreland)

Linking with communities outside the professional sphere

* 1 in 12; LARC; Cowley Club

* LARC: actively involved in organisation;
recatalogued bookstock; collection development;
reworking physical space

~~XXXXXXXXXX~~

* The Feminist Library: RLC invited to speak

* London Anarchist Bookfair; session on RLC in 2015

* Mozfest 2015: Library Freedom Project & Radical Librarians Collective

~~"That's exactly why privileged~~

"That's exactly why privileged fucks like me should feel obliged to whine and kick and scream until everyone has everything they need"

ⁿ
(Propagandhi, 'Resisting tyrannical government', 1996)

Λ

References

- Borden, Ian. (2001). Skateboarding, space, and the city: architecture and the body. Oxford: Berg
- Hancock, Black Hawk and Lorr, Michael. (2012). More than just a soundtrack: toward a technology of the collective in hardcore punk. Journal of contemporary ethnography, 42(3): 320-346.
- Glass, Pepper. (2012). Doing scene: identity, space, and the interactional accomplishment of youth culture. Journal of contemporary ethnography, 41(6): 695-716
- Lawson, Stuart, Sanders, Kevin, and Smith, Lauren. (2015). Commodification of the information profession: a critique of Higher Education under neoliberalism. Journal of librarianship and scholarly communication, 3(1).
- Mayler, Rob. (2012). Simon Reynolds, DIY culture, and the no-audience underground. ~~indisary.com~~ <https://radiofreemidwich.wordpress.com>
- de Certeau, Michel. (1984). The practice of everyday life. London: University of California Press.
- Benzer, Matthias. (2012). Lifelong death penalty: Adorno, Beckett's drama, sociology. Journal of classical sociology, 12(1): 94-121
- Crass. (1979). Punk is dead. Stations of the crass.
- Propagandhi. (1996). Resisting tyrannical government. Less talk, more rock.
- Dodge, Chris. (2004). Fracture, 9?
- Seale, Maura. (2016). Enlightenment, neoliberalism, and information literacy. Canadian journal of academic librarianship, 1(1): 80-91
- Illich, Ivan. (1973). Tools for conviviality.
- Foucault, Michel. (1978). The history of sexuality, vol 1. London: Penguin