

BAND OF THE COLDSTREAM GUARDS

The Coldstream Regiment was formed in 1650 by George Monck, a General in Oliver Cromwell's "New Model Army" and can therefore claim to be one of the oldest regiments in the world.

In 1661, shortly after the restoration of the monarchy, they were re-commissioned by King Charles II as Household Troops and from the town of Coldstream which lies just inside Scotland near Berwick-Upon-Tweed where it was first formed.

From the earliest days the Regiment had drummers and a "Band of Music" from 1742. This was in fact eight civilian musicians who were hired by the month by Officers of the Regiment to provide music for the Changing of the Guard at St. James' Palace.

The band spends a large proportion of its time engaged in support to State and ceremonial duties in London which range from mounting Guard at Buckingham Palace to playing during State visits and other high profile engagements.

In recent times the band has travelled to Switzerland, Germany, Belgium, France and a performed concert tour to Japan. Other major events include the Queen's Diamond Jubilee, London Olympics, Trooping the Colour, Cenotaph, Festival of Remembrance, Household Division Bedding Retreat, to name but a few.
